1st International Symposium in Sweden on

The Aging Male

September 24-26, 2008 in Malmö · Sweden

PROGRAMME

Arranged by the Swedish Society of Medicine and Lund Society of Medicine
Dear Colleague,

Welcome to Malmö and the 1st International symposium in Sweden on the Aging Male.

The purpose is to bring together scientists and clinicians in this relatively new discipline to examine the causes and consequences of male aging and its social and medical repercussions. The goal is to improve the health status and quality of life in men.

Prominent scientists within this field will present recent data in cardiovascular diseases, muscle capacity, sexuality, the aging brain, androgen therapy, the metabolic syndrome, mood and cognitive disorder etc.

The audience – scientists and practitioners with a multifaceted interest in health in aging, such as urology, psychiatry, geriatrics, endocrinology, gynecology and general practice. The meeting will also be of interest to professionals from the social sciences, as well as providers of services and technologies for the aging population.

Berzelius Symposia are arranged in honour of one of the Societies founders, Jöns Jacob Berzelius.

The Swedish Society of Medicine was founded in 1808 as a reading society for doctors’ continuing medical education. The Swedish Society of Medicine will celebrate its 200 years anniversary in 2008, more information on www.sls.se.

We are looking forward to seeing you in Malmö,

Nils-Otto Sjöberg, Stefan Arver, Sölve Elmståhl, and Sven-Olof Isacsson
